Amendments to the Specification

Please amend paragraph [0053] as follows.

[0053]   3. Workstation monitor: The workstation monitor is a software routine that detects when new records are written to the message queue. The workstation monitor ~~message queue~~ is preferably resident on client computer 10, preferably stored on magnetic disk or other permanent media and capable of being loaded into the volatile memory of client computer 10 for execution.